WHISKEY LAWYERS LEAD REPUBLICANS.

The Republican State Convention in Louisville, which nominated Mr. Willson for Governor and the other candidates on that ticket, was presided over by ex-Gov. W. O. Bradley, a regularly employed attorney of the whiskey people, who appeared as their legal representative in the litigation against the State when the rectifiers sought to have the Courts declare unconstitutional the act of the Democratic General Assembly placing a tax of 1 1/4 cents on each gallon of their product.

Another conspicuous leader of their party, who was only detained from their convention by an unfortunate accident, but who, from his sick bed, had much to do with the conduct of the convention, was Hon. John W. Yerkes, who is attorney for the liquor interests at Washington City.

Willson himself says the whiskey interests in Kentucky are too big to be closed. Voters, how will you cast your ballots?

CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

In no department of the State government does the Democratic administration of affairs show to better advantage than in its management of the Eleemosynary institutions, the asylums for the insane and unfortunates who are charges upon the State. Coming into power at a time when every department was in a chaotic condition, following the political troubles of 1900, it required several years time to secure legislation to enable its officials to install a thorough business system for the management of these institutions. To-day all this is changed, to the infinite betterment of the condition of the unfortunate wards of the Commonwealth, and also to the State in a financial way. During the last seven years Democratic legislative bodies have appropriated in the neighborhood of $250,000 for the enlarging, modernizing and general betterment of the asylums for the insane, and to make more comfortable the condition of the poor unfortunates confined therein.

Don't do too much or any cousin.

DEMOCRATIC SINCERITY PROVEN.

The Democratic party through its Governor, has shown its sincerity in the enforcement of the Sunday closing laws by the results in Louisville. Under a decision of the Appellate Court vacancies were made in the offices of Louisville and Jefferson County, and the power placed in the hands of the Governor to fill those vacancies. The Governor appointed a Mayor and other officers who promptly and successfully closed the saloons there the first Sunday they were in power, and revoked the licenses of all saloon keepers who violated the law. A Democratic Mayor of Lexington, and Democratic Mayors of other cities in Kentucky, have been enforcing this law for some time. The one conspicuous exception among our large cities where the law is not enforced is the city of Covington. Criticism has been made because it has not been enforced there. In answer it may be said that the Mayor of that city is a Republican and can enforce this law just as easily as it can be enforced in any other city. What, on the other hand, has been the record of the Republican party on this question? It is a well known fact that the leaders of the party, hoping to profit by the liquor vote of the State, have taken such a stand that no intelligent temperance advocate can afford to support their ticket.

REPUBLICAN EXTRAVAGANCE.

The Republicans in this campaign are seeking to make much capital by charging that there has been a large increase in the number of offices created and in the expenditure of public money under the Democratic administration. They talk about economy in such matters, and denounce as extravagance such increases. Every one knows that both in National and State affairs the Republican party has always been the party of extravagance and wastefulness in the expenditure of public money.

Seven workmen were injured, four fatally, at one of the blast furnaces of the Clairton Steel Company, Clairton, Pa.

THE TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

For its record upon the temperance question the Democratic administration asks no more than a fair and impartial consideration of what it has done towards the advancement of temperance legislation, and the enforcement of the laws on that subject. It has stood for the County Unit law and for the strict enforcement of the laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors on the Sabbath day. It has succeeded, also, in placing upon the statute books other measures strengthening the cause of temperance in the State, and leading non-partisan advocates of temperance have stated that during the last six or seven years Kentucky has enacted some of the wisest and best temperance legislation that can be found in any State in the Union. They admit that but for the assistance of the Democratic administration the County Unit bill could not have passed, and under that bill, since it became a law a little more than a year ago, thirty-three (33) counties have voted the saloons entirely out, making a total of ninety-one (91) counties in the State totally dry. In a large part of the remaining twenty-eight counties local option prevails. The local option law is a Democratic measure, because it carries out the theory of local self-government, and gives the right to the people of the county to determine whether or not they want intoxicating liquors sold in that county. It was passed by a Democratic General Assembly, supported by a Democratic Governor and administration, and its constitutionality upheld by a Democratic Court of Appeals.

Voters, regardless of party affiliation, with such a record can you vote any other ticket than the Democratic ticket?

Makes Hogs Fatten.

J. T. Estes, R. R. No. 4, Winchester, Ky., says: "I gave my hogs Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy and fed them in a lot where hogs had died with cholera. I never had a thrifter lot of hogs or had them fatten faster."

Sold and guaranteed by Wm. S. Lloyd.

But a few more days until the result will be known in Kentucky. The Republicans are making all sorts of claims that are calculated to sweep an unthinking person off his feet. Consequently no democrat should be in the least disturbed by their wild prophecies. They speakers have admitted that they do not expect to win except with the help of so-called disgruntled democrats. They are asking people to them that should not meet any consideration at all. We believe no democrat will be so easily gulled as to be persuaded that conditions in Kentucky will be bettered by putting the Willson machine in power at Frankfort.—Blue Grass Clipper.

KENTUCKY LEADS IN DEVELOPMENT.

A prominent temperance advocate said: "Kentucky stands about first among the American Commonwealths in the high development of her local option laws. This high point has been reached during the present administration which will go down in the State's history as the era of a great moral reform."

The Committee on temperance of Kentucky Baptists, headed by Rev. M. B. Adams, President of the Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky, in their report to the State Convention at Mayfield last June, said: "Since the last meeting of this body such phenomenal advances have been made in Kentucky as to attract the attention of the entire Nation. All our fondest hopes of past years have been realized, and the work has gone so far beyond our expectations that we have been amazed at the results." It further says: "On June 11th, 1906, when the Cummauck-Redwine County Unit went into operation, there were fifty-eight counties within the State prohibiting everywhere within their territory the retail sale of liquor, since that date, under the terms of the Cummauck law, and through the impulse created by its passage, thirty-two (now thirty-three) additional counties have voted prohibition, until now there are ninety-one (ninety-one) out of one hundred and nineteen counties of the State in which liquor can not be legally sold. Of the remaining twenty-nine counties (now twenty-eight) only four are largely saloon territory. There are now only about fifty towns and cities in Kentucky where the sale of liquor is legal."

All this brought to pass by a Democratic administration now being led to victory by Judge S. W. Hager, a towering statesman from the hills of Eastern Kentucky. Rally to him, boys.

Kentucky has resources that ought to be exploited and Kentuckians ought to be willing to put up the money to pay for the exploitation, says the Louisville Times. The Kentucky State Development Association made up of honest, able and public-spirited Kentuckians, is willing to do the work of attracting capital to the state, but cannot be expected to do much for those who are not willing to avail themselves of the chance to be helped. Recent laws give Fiscal Courts the right to appropriate adequate sums for the purpose of advancing the interests of the state and that this money should be spent under the direction of an organization competent to bring about the desired results is emphasized. The point need not be emphasized.

Local Option Election.

A petition of the legal voters of Monroe County has been filed with County Judge Joe S. Miller, asking that an election be held under the County Unit Law. Out of ten precincts in the county all are now "dry" but one.

FOR

GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY

NOVEMBER ELECTION, 1907.

S. W. HAGER, OF BOYD COUNTY.
DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR.

Under Democratic management there has been wonderful development in our mountains, taking out and converting into money forests of timber, the absorbing and marketing of the world's finest coal and bituminous coals, building stone, iron ore, etc., organizing farmers into societies for the purpose of protecting themselves against consolidated capital greed, combines and trusts; the Society of Equity is against the tobacco trust; the Farmers Alliance is against wheat, corn and other cereal combines.

Judge Hager has been an active worker in line with the people, achieving these helpful results. He is a living example for better morals, thoroughly in sympathy with the best people.

People of Kentucky, vote as you strive, as you pray, and Kentucky will push forward the happiest and most prosperous people of the world. "What Doth hinder?"

VICE-PRESIDENT REVIEWED

It may seem unbecoming in us to criticize the Vice-President of the United States, but it is more so than it is in the Vice-President to come into a State, famous for the integrity of her people, and make sneering insinuations against her courts? Is the Vice-President in a position to know whether our courts are corrupt or otherwise? Should not he have stopped to consider that in reflecting discredit on the courts of Kentucky, he was at the same time casting a shadow over a number of members of his own political faith? Does he know that a number of the courts of Kentucky are presided over by Republicans, good men save by comparison, and justice issued by Republican juries? Is the Vice-President able to pick out the courts in which justice is twisted? If he is able to do this, we advise him to refrain from using his keen insight, lest it set as a boomerang on his own party. Does not this little insinuation that liberty and the right of property are insecure in this state, mark him a man of somewhat smaller calibre than one would expect to find among executive timber? If there is one prominent characteristic of men of mediocre ability, it is clearly pointed out to an intelligent people when one of them antagonizes the voters by dark hints at the institutions they adore. Is his interrogative insinuation as to whether the penal institutions of our state conducted along the lines of gain to party, worn and threadbare? On the whole, we are inclined to think that the Vice-President would have done the Republican party fully as much good had he mounted the stage and done pantomime during the time occupied by his speeches. His special train of cars and attendants was spectacular and afforded diversion for the curious—but it turned to airy nothing in the way of stacking up votes. The courts of Old Kentucky have always suited Old Kentucky pretty well; and they are still suiting Old Kentucky. They will continue to suit Kentucky, the Old or the New, and the fact that we have a few Republicans on the bench lends a zest to the zeal of the Democratic ones to do their best. The Vice-President called Mr. Willson "Governor." This appellation will doubtless be a source of pride to Mr. Willson when he answers his posterity's questions relative to his race for the Governorial honor, with a "Yes, I ran." If this poor hopeless one is acquainted with race-track phraseology (we presume he is), he will hear around the Falls City these expressions after the election, "Hager won in a common canter; Augustus Willson also ran." Augustus is up against it. He may be the proper horse for the trusts to place their wad on (they have it to lose), but in a heat requiring speed and lasting qualities he is carrying too much weight to go the distance. "Left at the post," is his doom. Mr. Willson will be left with the bag to hold and wind to catch—thin wind at that. In the future he will be unhampered by any sleeking races, but will have plenty of time to devote to the interests of the whiskey and tobacco trusts, but the voters are certainly going to exclude all Governorial honors from those points. His defeat will be an everlasting knockout to his ambitions and after November he will keep as close to cover as Morris Belknap is doing since Gov. J. C. W. Beckham died him his death. Mr. Willson's defeat will be even more crushing than "Belknap and Business."

WELL DONE.

The drop of the chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee in his claims of a Republican majority of 20,000 to 8,000, coupled with the weak speeches of Fairbanks made last week, and the conduct of the Fairbanks party, is evidence of their realization of humiliating defeat. We are looking for a honest victory. Why not? Can honest Republicans vote for a ticket the head of which has been proven, without attempt at denial, to be in opposition to the American Society of Equity, a friend and employee of the great tobacco trust to that intensity that he is pledged to use his best endeavors and legal powers to destroy the legislative enactments permitting the growers to even attempt a defense from the onslaught of the eager trusts.

SHOWING

The political contest has virtually closed. It has been an aggressive fight. Democrats in charge have opened the books at Frankfort and everything has been found absolutely correct. The people should feel gratified with results and doubtless will show their approval by an unusual majority. The chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee has given out his estimate of the majority, the figures showing a majority of 25,000 outside the city of Louisville. This correct we see no reason to change our figures, 32,000 majority.

HON. HENRY M. BO-WORTH.
 DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR STATE AUDITOR.

A kinsman of the lamented Felix Bosworth. Our people know him through his kinsman. A correct man, a real old time Democrat, his friends are the people. He is as near a perfect man as the Lord makes for this earth and is only a sample of what we have among the Democratic nominees. Begin at the top of the column under the rooster and read down the line, then make comparison with the trust candidates of the Republican party. Democrats, vote this ticket straight! Farmers, you who stand for and with the Society of Equity, vote this ticket from top to bottom. Moral men, church members, vote this ticket and regard the Christian Sabbath. Mothers see to it that your husbands and sons vote for the Democratic ticket. It is this party that stands pledged to temperance laws and against the open saloon. The success of the Democratic party is the success of moral issues.

STANLEY SHOWS WILLSON UP.

Defending himself against an attack by Augustus E. Willson, Congressman Stanley, Democrat, in a speech at Havesville, Ky., charged that the attack was prompted by the American Tobacco Company, of which the Republican candidate for Governor is the paid attorney. He said he knew full well why he was made the object of the assault by the Republican candidate as he had fought the tobacco trust too hard to suit Mr. Willson.

He produced the record to show that Mr. Willson was the attorney for the tobacco trust and charged that the assault on him was only a part of the general effort by the trust to destroy him because of his stand against that corporation.

Willson, in language unmistakable, has declared himself the friend of the whiskey interests. "These investments are so ponderous that to disturb them would bring confusion to those most interested." This is true, but for time far in the past hasn't Willson and his friends, the Rum interested, been destroying our boys and bringing sorrow and humiliation to our daughters, wives, mothers? The people of Kentucky have been forbearing these many years until patience has ceased to be a virtue and the head of Mr. Willson and all others who may espouse the rum cause must be taken off. The axe will fall heavy on November 5th.

FITS EXACTLY.

Judge Hager, Democratic nominee for Governor, is not only a competent man, but is trained to fill the office he asks at the hands of the people. He is a model gentleman from our own section. He opposes the tobacco trust and all other trusts and stands for the farmers interests.

STYLE AND ITS ORIGIN.

The average merchant of to-day will tell you for no better reason than our styles all come from the English and are tempered down or changed to the whims of a few high-priced tailors on Fifth Avenue in New York; but such is not the case, and if such WAS a fact there would be no style—we would all be uniformed, and individuality in one's appearance would be lost. Style is not the creation of any two or three men or set of men. It is the accumulation of months research. Large combined tailors, such as the Stein-Bloch Co. in Rochester and Hamburger Bros. in Baltimore, send representatives to Paris, London and the Continent, some to the New York Horse Show to Sherry's, and others to Newport in the height of the season. A lapel is gathered here, a sleeve there, a collar somewhere else, and so on. All of these parts are tied over, tried out and boiled down, matched to the different cloths and colours until each is considered perfect. The creations of the different concerns are guarded with the greatest possible care that they may not be copied or imitated by others. Hence the newness of their creations, the difference in appearance, which stamps them leaders in style and tailoring of the world to-day. The close attention paid to our business gives us knowledge of these facts, and that is our reason for advertising these makes and recommending them as the best to be had to our friends and patrons.

We want you to know more clothes facts, which means knowing our clothes, but it can never be unless you visit our store, so do it while the stocks are new and complete.

"You and Your Shoes."

Did it ever enter your mind that some stores were in a better position to sell you shoes cheaper than others, and sell better shoes at the same time? Do you ever look around when you go to buy shoes, or just follow a certain guide or a single thought? We have often wondered about you. The Johnson & Murphy (J. & M.) Shoe is considered by other good stores to be the best in the U. S., to be the only shoes made worth $5.00 or $6.00. We sell them and show a complete line of plain and noble styles in all the up-to-date leathers of the times. The W. L. Douglas and Eclipse $3.50 and $4 Shoes have been sold by this store for 20 years to the same trade—people living in the same county and town that you are and you still buy other brands that are not as good, just because you have never taken the time to spend your money to the best advantage. Now look at our shoes. We have good ideas in our shoes that will be an advantage to you. Boys' shoes made by the Holland Shoe Co. give splendid satisfaction and guaranteed.

Men's Suits

In more different styles for you to select from than any tailor's fashion plate shows, and the beauty about buying our high-class ready-to-put-on garments lies in the fact that you may try on every style, see the one that's most becoming both in cloth and cut. Browns and Greys are beyond a question the season's favored colours, while the staple Blacks and Blues are shown in an endless range in fashionable styles. We refer you to the following styles, all of which we show: The Lipton 3-button double-breasted sack; the Ryerfort 3-button double-breasted, round cornered sack; the Druid 3-button single-breasted shapely sack; Sagamore 3-button single-breasted long gorge sack; Newport 3-button single-breasted long gorge, with slanting pockets; Windsor 3-button single-breasted conservative sack; Saxon 3-button single-breasted conservative sack; English 3-button single-breasted straight front sack.

It is certainly worth the man's time who cares about his clothes to visit our store. Here you will see the garments you have admired on other men and you will find that the clothes help. Every garment is built like a watch and is time with the spirit of progress. Look to-day. Suits from $7.50 to $30.

Men's Overcoats.

The range of styles in Men's Overcoats this season is broad that every man may use his own judgment and yet have a stylish garment. We are showing the celebrated Stein-Bloch and Hamburger makes in top coats, Chesterfields, Surtouts, Poudlocks, Rain Coats, Box Backs and Shapely Backs in Light and Heavy-weights, made with heavy wool serge or silk lining, some trimmed with astrican collars and cuffs, silk velvet collars and cuffs, some with contrasting cloth collars and others with collars of the same goods. Our stock is of such magnitude and our prices are so low that no man need be disappointed who visits our store, as this is truly the house of the overcoat.

Men's Hats.

Our Hats are bought with two separate ideas in view, to reach two different tastes, namely: The young and the old they say can't put an old head on young shoulders, so it is with hats. Our line is made up of Stetson and Knox styles and qualities. Every whim of fashion that is correct is shown. The colours are the ones most worn. A look will convince without argument. Come to-day.

Suits and Overcoats

For the boy, not a few, not just anything, but on the balcony in our house will be found a complete line of boys' and children's suits, overcoats, hats, caps and other apparel that borders on the men's styles, which to an extent regulates the young lad's clothes.

A prominent Democratic politician, writing from Washington City, hits the nail squarely on the head when he says: "The ideology of Democrats all over the country in fighting one another when they should get together and fight the common enemy, reminds me of the definition Ben Butler once gave of the Democratic party. He said it was like a man riding backwards in a railway car—never saw anything until it passed it. From its actions at the present time I am inclined to believe he was about correct. The Democracy never had a better chance to win the Presidency, is the opinion of the best informed men of the party who come here, provided its members can get together and stop their eternal bickering among themselves. With Taft saying in his speeches that we must not try to reform the tariff until after the next election, which is the same old song we have been getting from the Republican party for the past dozen years, with never a move in that direction, and with Taft the most likely candidate of the Republican party, we have the chance of our lives to prove to the people that the Republican party is long on promises and short on performance, if we can unite on some good man."

C. C. Gose and J. M. Gose, of Menefee county, brothers of H. N. Gose, Democratic nominee for State Senator, were in the city Saturday. They report things good in Menefee, that we may count on not less than 400 majority for the Democratic ticket, possibly more. This is the forecast of all the counties in Eastern Kentucky. The people, Democrats and the better class of Republicans are determined to see the principles of temperance win and since the Democratic party has championed the temperance cause and all hopes of temperance are in the Democratic party, the temperance people will vote that way. Mr. Gose is an ardent supporter of the temperance movement and will receive the temperance vote. When we know a temperance candidate in Eastern Kentucky we can count on his election, for the prevailing sentiment is for temperance. Mr. Gose is eminently fitted for the position he asks, is a true and correct man morally and otherwise, and the people cannot do better than to elect him.

FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS

The writer is still at Heidelberg, miles below Beattyville. This is a great shipping point for ties and staves and soon coal will be added. For a railroad bridge is being built across the Kentucky river by the Louisville & Atlantic to connect with her main line. This branch will not only reach extensive coal mines, distant about 25 to 30 miles up the creek, but will facilitate the shipment of ties, staves and lumber. Pryse Conington is the largest dealer in ties and staves and has a large store. Childers & Drake also do a nice business in merchandise. One gentleman was apparently much distressed because Caleb Powers is still in jail and James Hargis had been acquitted time and again. He claimed that the Democratic party is to blame for this condition. The writer has never attended the trial of either of these men, but has read and heard of the facts connected with their respective crimes, and is of the opinion that each of them should be glad that he is alive. The guilty should be convicted and the innocent acquitted, whether the accused is principal or accessory to murder committed at Jackson, Ky., or in State Capital. Every patriotic citizen, whether Republican or Democrat, should deeply lament the facts that have brought such reproach to Kentucky and Kentuckians and should strive for a better standard of living.

EVILS.

On Friday we went to this village, 12 miles below the river. Here ties, lumber, etc., are carried down the river on cars suspended from a wire cable, having been brought to train road for as much as three miles. Brandenburg Bros. do a flourishing mercantile business. From a stranger we learned a note, ferried the river on a road three miles to lumber camp. The stranger and the ferry man are now subscribers. Darbin & Darbin are merchants and for a year will read the Advocate.

That note may be a Democrat's note, as the owner told a democrat that if the editor was a Republican that note could not be relied upon, but if a Democrat the note would not throw him. The editor stuck to that note and was for business.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

Trains on the L. & A. do not connect at Beattyville Junction with passenger trains on L. & E. coming to Winchester and other points, but do connect with trains for Jackson. Do not know why this is. Wishing to be on L. & E. on Saturday we went to Jackson on Friday night and lost the pleasure of being entertained by Jas. Prentiss and wife.

Circuit Court was in session. We arrived after dark and left at 3:30 a. m.

At night as we walked up street about a block east of the stores were without lights and few people were on the street. These impressions broken by numbers of officers singing a gospel song, now claiming the love of Jesus. The contrast with other times was marked and suggested the thought that the gospel is the power that is to save Breckinridge county; for if love for Jesus fills the heart there will be no desire to murder. We advocate the rigid enforcement of law, but life imprisonment or execution of a few who deserve what they get will not suffice to cleanse the desperately wicked heart. God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in Him might not perish but have everlasting life. What a blessing would come to Kentucky if that gospel could have free course in Jackson and Mt. Sterling and a few other places.

HOMEWARD.

We stopped at Bowen and Stanton, walked to Clay City, transacted business and reached home ready for the privileges and blessings of this Lord's day and house.

Train in the Ditch.

On last Friday the east bound local passenger train which leaves here at 11:45 A. M. was derailed thrown from track opposite the country residence of Edward Prewitt. The wreck was supposed to have been caused by the breaking of front trucks under the tender. The entire train except the engine was derailed. The passenger coaches after running on the ties were thrown from the track in a cut, hence fell against the bank, but not much damaged. Express agent Chapman was the only person seriously hurt. He was sent to a hospital at Ashland. The track was so torn up that east bound trains transferred by Mayville Local passengers were transferred.

It should be borne in mind that while they are so situated that a heavy regular patronage is assured, they are also situated at points in "the first American city" where real estate values are sky-scraping. If such hotels pay a reasonable return, what dividends are paid by hotels in which it is impossible to live for less than $5 a day.

NEWSPAPERS ONLY

Will be Used by Newcastle, Indiana, Business Men in the Future for Their Advertising.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Newcastle, Ind., has placed the ban on all advertising schemes, and will have nothing to do with programs, so-called business directories or other schemes devised to separate a merchant from his cash. Newspaper advertising is recognized as the only profitable public utility method and will be strictly adhered to in the future. This decision was reached after one year's investigation of results obtained from various forms of advertising.

A committee was appointed by the Merchants' League who kept actual figures on the business done by the merchants and traced to various forms of advertising. The only form of advertising showing actual benefits was traced to legitimate newspapers. Special boom editions were condemned by the committee and merchants were urged to refrain from using them. They are usually the products of solicitors traveling from city to city interesting a certain class of newspapers in their schemes and taking a per cent. of the profits for their share in the work, yielding no money with the merchants who advertised. The Newcastle Merchants' League recommend that their merchants use only the bona fide newspapers published regularly either daily, Sunday or weekly.

On Halloween Eve at 7 o'clock you are invited to attend Halloween Festivities at Mt. S. C. L. I. There will be a short, but enjoyable program, lasting about an hour.

After the program be sure to attend the "Mystic Midway" in the Gym and Kindergarten Rooms. There your fortune told and enjoy each and every feature of the Halloween Festivities.

Admission Adults, 25c; children, 10c.

Proceeds of the entertainment will be used to purchase supplies for the Primary and Kindergarten rooms of the Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute.

UNLUCKY TO MEET WOMAN.

Peculiar Superstition Believed in by Irish Fisherman.

Superstitions as to its being un lucky to meet a woman when setting out to fish, or upon any journey by sea, are common. From a few hundred on the Donegal coast the writer was one day anxiously watching a small smack beating across the bay against a heavy sea and stiff breeze, which had suddenly sprung up. After a long hard fight for it the little craft made the pier in safety. When he asked the landlord to bring the skipper on his recent hard-ship he said: "Sure, what better luck could I have? I didn't meet a red-headed woman in Sliro this morning the moment I left my lodging to walk down to the boat! In this case the color of the woman's hair and the fact of her being the first person met with after the man left his house seemed to be the determining factor in the day's luck. But in other places the objection to such an encounter embraces half of all shades of hair, and the day is lost. Not simply sufficient to bring the ill-luck, but as you are walking down to the boat only a few weeks ago the writer visited a small fishing village on the Galway coast, and just before getting on his car to return home was chatting to the landlady of the little inn. A strapping young fisherman, who was walking down the road toward the harbor suddenly stopped, climbed over the fence, and made his way to his boat across the fields. The writer observed to his hostess that he had never seen him before. She taken him for a process-server with a writ for him. She laughed rather derisively, and said: "It's not you at all, sir, he's afraid of, but not. He's just going fishing, and would not meet me by if you gave him the fill of his hat of gold?"

WELL OF SODA WATER.

Natural Fountain One of the Wonders of California.

One of the most interesting and new gushing wells in the world, and perhaps without a rival in either sea or land, is a geyser of soda water, recently came up at Wendling, just across the Mendocino county border from Sonoma, Cal.

This well produces soda water—genuine soda water—and of a quality that would warrant bottling for the general trade in such quantities as all, sir, he's afraid of, but not. He's just going fishing, and would not meet me by if you gave him the fill of his hat of gold?"

An artisan well worker was recently employed to secure an adequate water supply for a large sawmill in that region. He drilled to a depth of 200 feet, the lower 110 feet being through solid granite. Then a slight trace of water was found. The granite was then placed 54 sticks of dynamite at the bottom of the well and exploded.

Instantly water gushed up, rising 20 feet above the surface of the ground pouring forth in enormous volume. That was days ago, and since then there has been no interruption of a geyser of this vast "natural soda fountain."—Scientific American.

Where the Immigrants Go.

With regard to the distribution of newly arrived immigrants, the figures of the bureau of immigration show that of the 1,200,000 immigrants who arrived through Ellis island in 1906, about 30 per cent. were destined for New York state and most of these for the metropolitan district; 20 per cent. for Pennsylvania; 7 per cent. each for Illinois and Massachusetts; and 5 1/2 per cent. each for New Jersey and Ohio. This would seem to indicate a considerable concentration. But it must be taken into consideration that the immigration statistics do not take into account the great number who stay in New York only long enough to discover where they may go, or to earn enough for their passage to agricultural districts. New York is the clearing house, and already there are large movements at work to draw from it the newly arrived labor so badly needed in the mills of the south, on the railroads of the southwest, in the wheat fields of the great plains—where there is capital and undeveloped resources.—National Geographic.

Science and Singing.

The nationality of professors of singing also possess a profound knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of the vocal organs, and impress their pupils and clients with an extensive vocabulary in scientific terms, but we venture to say that few have ever made a careful study of the organs they undertake to train, such as would be of real service to them in their instructions. A periodical examination of the pupils by a laryngologist would also undoubtedly be of great assistance in order to derive information from the vocal organs were being developed naturally and without undue strain.—London Hospital.

Harnessing the Rhine.

A great project has been formed for utilizing the waters of the Rhine about made for the supply of electric power from the burning sun in the hands of a company it is in course of formation with a capital of one and a quarter millions sterling. There will be a barrage about 500 feet long near Laro. Altogether it is proposed to extract from the river power equal to 42,000 horses, which will constitute the most powerful hydraulic installation in Europe.

EVENED UP WITH FARMER.

Scientific Elimination of an Overcharge for Beer at Boarding House.

A boarder at a Massachusetts farmhouse evaded an overcharge by the landlord in the following fashion this summer.

"When he arrived for a fortnight's stay he learned that the town in which the farm was situated was a temperance town, and that the nearest source of supply for malt and spirituous quenchers was some eight miles away. When he asked the landlord to bring up a couple of cases of beer the next time he went to town, he was blandly informed:

"There's no need of that. I have adopted you as a member of my family, and I always have some beer on hand for my own."

This was all right, and during the remainder of his stay the guest consumed beer as his thirst and fancy demanded.

When he came to settle his bill just before leaving, he discovered that he had been charged with some ten bottles which he had not consumed. Not wishing to make a fuss over so small a matter, he cast about for some way to even it up.

Regarding the farmer in conversation about prospective improvements on the place, he suggested that some beer would make matters more comfortable and it was brought. The drink was then enlarged by two new members, and more beer was asked for, brought and consumed, and so it went for some time.

The departing guest suggested that he pay for the beer, but this offer was rejected; so he made himself comfortable and kept on the ancient sofa until some 14 bottles had been emptied, when he hid himself away with a glowing satisfaction at having squared things so far as his overcharge was concerned without leaving a suspicion behind as to his dark intentions.

KING'S TASTE IN COLORS.

Edward Tries to Relieve the Gloom of Masculine Dress.

Men's dress has never in recorded sartorial history been so dull and uninteresting as it became during the nineteenth century.

King Edward has made tentative efforts to enlarge masculine freedom in this respect: the soft felt hat, tan brook, evening trousers with a stripe down the sides, and broad dinner jackets all owe their introduction to the royal arbiter of men's fashions; and it was his suggestion that the color in the king's dress was to be a dark but rich blue overcoat, a pink shirt and a holostrone tie.

Again at the last, had given to most their majesties' of the twentieth some many of the gentlemen guests were privately requested to appear in new frock coats, by the king's desire—London News.

Telltale Footsteps.

"Did you ever notice the individuality of footsteps?" asked the man whose office opens into a long hall and down which a great many people walk every day. "Well, I have not said so, but I can recognize without trouble the quick nervous stride of the man who has the room next to mine, the shuffling of the feet of the janitor, the shuffle of the feet of the dean of our law. There isn't the least difficulty in telling the identity of frequent visitors in my section, even the answer to there is the telltale revelation brought to my ears before my eyes set upon them, but a little observation does the trick."

Half-Finished Tasks.

Most lives are filled with half-finished tasks which were begun with enthusiasm but which have been dropped because the enthusiastic beginners did not have enough grit to carry them to a conclusion. It does not take much ability to begin a thing and we cannot estimate a person by the number of things he or she commences.

The test of character is in a woman or man's ability to persist in what she undertakes until he finds the finishing stroke. The ability to hold on is one of the rarest of human virtues.

Look out for the period in your life when you are tempted to turn back! There is the danger point, the decisive period. All the great things of history have been accomplished after the great majority of men would have turned back.

Herd of Cattle Sunstruck.

Hicks Myers, about 15 miles north of Tucson, lost 11 head of fat steers the other afternoon, says the Tucson Herald. Mr. Myers has changed from a cowboy to a cowboy's son to another about an eighth of a mile away, in which there were no trees.

His boy discovered one dead about noon and Mr. Myers on arrival at the pasture, found the whole herd closely bunched trying to get shelter from the burning sun in the shade thrown by their own bodies. He cut out all the yearlings and drove them to another part of the field, but too late to get the herd to shelter before 11 had fallen dead. The steers were worth about $65 apiece, and as they were not insured, says a local man.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Della Ward, wife of W. C. Ward, formerly of Winchester, fell asleep at Bethesda Hospital in Cincinnati, at 8-50 on the evening of October twenty-third, 1907.

Her sister, Mrs. E. K. Howe, was summoned by telegram on Monday last. Mrs. Ward has not been well for some months, but the seriousness of her trouble was not realized by the family, and impressively shocked are they in her death.

The devoted husband, Henry her only child, the loving sister, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Langford Anderson, of Cincinnati, and a few friends formed a loving circle about her in the last hours. The widowed mother of more than four score years awaited the loved one at the old home, where she was laid to rest with others of her kindred, gone before.

They give prompt relief.

"I have been an invalid for 9 years. I have neuralgia, rheumatism and pains around the joints. After using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I am relieved of the pain, and sleep and rest. I think that had I not taken the Anti-Pain Pills I was fast taking sick. They would have been a great recommendation for my 'periodic' pains."—MRS. E. C. ABRAMS.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first box will benefit you. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 cents, 50 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Editor Allen in his paper, the Cynthiana Democrat, says:

Corn cutting is on. After that the farmer boys will cut down the republicans. Watch old Harrison come to the front with an old time democratic majority.

The Tobacco Trust would have a good friend at Frankfort should Mr. Willson be elected Governor. He is now the attorney for the American Tobacco Co.

When Mr. Willson comes to Cynthiana next week it is hoped he will not forget to tell the tobacco growers that he is an attorney for the Tobacco Trusts and "light the trust's battles in the courts of Kentucky."

There will be the biggest lot of disappointed republicans in Kentucky on the morning of November 6 you ever saw. The boys out in the country really believe Mr. Willson has a chance, but the republican bosses know he hasn't a possible chance. Sorry for the boys, but they should espouse a better cause.

Every thing isn't so lovely in the republican camp. Mr. August E. Willson was chiefly instrumental in the defeat of Dr. Godfrey Hunter when the unspeakable Deboe was sent to the United States Senate. The Dr. hasn't forgotten Gossie's work and is whetting his spickersaw for a slaughter of the truly good in Paducah and other counties in the Eleventh District. Gossie had to cancel several speaking appointments in the mountains too, on account of his dodging the temperance issue.

Mr. Willson is not becoming the fate of Senator McCreary and Senator Lindsay with quitters such heart-rending groans since both gentlemen have announced themselves squarely for the democratic ticket. Mr. Willson is not saying anything, either, about the way he and Gov. Bradley defeated Dr. Godfrey Hunter for the Senate and forced on the State the ignominy of the unspeakable Deboe, of whom even the republicans are ashamed. But Dr. Hunter and his friends have not forgotten. What they will do to Mr. Willson in the mountains will likely hold him for awhile.

Charged with having insulted and threatened the life of a young white woman, Henry Sykes, a negro, was taken from the custody of an officer near Van Vleet, Miss., and lynched.

Stomach troubles, Heart and Kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc. F. C. Duerson.

AGREE NOT TO PLANT.

Bracken Farmers Will Not Raise Tobacco Next Year.

The agitation for keeping down a planting of a crop of tobacco in Bracken county is assuming large proportions. Under the leadership of president of the Society of Equity for Bracken county, at a Mt. Zion lodge, near Augusta, fifty-seven of the fifty-nine members present agreed not to plant a crop of tobacco in 1908. This average will probably hold good all over the county. Bracken county farmers have nine million pounds of fine white Burley, old and new, ready for sale and no immediate prospect for a sale. The merchants and all others interested in the tobacco situation take rather gloomy view of the immediate future. The American Tobacco Company has withdrawn its buyer and closed their plant here, and it is more than likely will not attempt to buy any of the new crop in this part of the State.

When the republicans started on their campaign they claimed Kentucky by 250,000, more or less. Now they have figured their majority down to a measly 8,000. After the 5th of November they will be wondering "where they are at."—Blue Grass Clipper.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventives. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventives, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventives contain no drug, no laxative, nothing harsh nor delecting. Taken at the "snice stage" preventives will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, LaGrippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventives. Good for feverish children. 25 Preventives 25 cts. Trial boxes 5 cts. Sold by F. C. Duerson.

During A. E. Willson's speech at Harrodsburg an old colored man in the gallery went to sleep and snored so loud that the speaker was forced to stop until the heavy-headed son of Ham could be awakened. Augustus is giving even to bedbugs "that tired feeling!"

Honored By The Refined And Cultured.

Gov. J. C. W. Beckham was given a grand ovation in Boyle county he spoke at Perryville. He was introduced by the Rev. Dr. W. T. Overstreet, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Perryville, and a prominent temperance worker. He made one of his characteristic speeches, and produced facts proving the success of the present administration at Frankfort.

More than a thousand people gathered at the little town of Perryville to hear the Governor. He was met two miles from town by 100 men on horseback and the Perryville band, which played "Hail to the Chief."

At Perryville he was met by a great delegation of Democrats from Springfield, headed by Circuit Judge I. H. Thurman, who delivered a red-hot speech at the conclusion of the Governor's address. Col. A. E. Lillard, candidate for Representative, followed Judge Thurman in a brief but pointed speech, outlining his position on vital questions.

All schools were dismissed that the children could hear the Governor. He spoke from the steps in front of the Bank of Perryville, and traffic on Main street was stopped during the speaking. Hundreds gathered on adjoining house-tops and in the trees in order to get a glimpse of the candidate for United States Senator. The enthusiasm was unbounded.

Gov. Beckham spoke to a great crowd of enthusiastic Democrats in the court house at Danville and created a splendid impression. He was introduced by Col. R. G. Evans. After the speaking Gov. Beckham, Dr. L. H. Blanton and the Rev. Dr. E. M. Green and Mrs. Green were entertained at supper by Col. Lillard.

Give your political or business rival credit for what good he has done.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Mr. Bryan was given a "rousing reception on his two days' speaking tour through western Kentucky last week.

The Womens National Daily, published at St. Louis, says:

In spite of the stories of feuds and night riders and moonshine whisky and other things that do not usually indicate prosperity and peace, the great State of Kentucky is reported out of debt, and with a statehouse just completed costing $1,200,000. Striking contrast this with Pennsylvania and some other States about which the world does not hear tales of the Kentucky character. We are beginning to believe that some of the stories from the Dark and Bloody Ground are not entirely true to history. It seems that the people of Kentucky are honest as a rule, pay their bills and don't steal their own money.

Willson has attacked the pardon record of Gov. Beckham in the face of the fact that Gov. Bradley issued 448 pardons in four years and Gov. Beckham has issued only 354 in nearly eight years. Of these five were convicts whose death sentences were commuted to life imprisonment, two of them negroes and one of the others a man who had been adjudged a lunatic. In Bradley's big list were 19 pardons for rape against 9 by Beckham. The less the Republicans can say about the pardon business the better.

Stops carache in two minutes; toothache or pain of head or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour; muscleache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

The political party dominating state or national assemblies whether Democrats or Republicans may be credited with all laws enacted whether good bad or indifferent.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Mt. Sterling People Know How to Save It.

Many Mt. Sterling people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.

A. C. Davis, plasterer, a well known resident of Letcher Avenue, Richmond, Ky., says: "For several years I suffered severely with kidney trouble and though I tried many different advertised remedies I could find no relief until a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a box and after thoroughly testing them, I realized what a remarkably good kidney medicine Doan's Kidney Pills are. The results in my case were such that as a friend I would advise all sufferers from kidney troubles to give them a trial."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duerson's drug store and ask what customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 15-21

FRIEND OF THE FARMERS.

Just at this time, when the American Society of Equity and Dark Tobacco Growers Protective Association are accomplishing so much for the farmers of Kentucky who cultivate tobacco, one of the State's largest crops, it will not be amiss to call the attention of those farmers to the fact that it was a Democratic General Assembly and Democratic officials that made it possible to form such an association in the Blue Grass State. After years of oppression by the tobacco trust, during which time the price had been driven down to the lowest point, the farmers determined to appeal for legislative aid. The Statute law of Kentucky provided against combinations of any kind. The matter was submitted to the Legislature by Democratic members. It was pushed to a place on the law books by Democratic energies, and, under it, the American Society of Equity and Dark Tobacco Growers Protective Association have flourished. The trust has attacked the constitutionality of the law in the courts of the State, but it has been upheld in the lower courts, in which the question of its constitutionality has already been presented.

Stop farmer, think! How will you vote? Willson, Republican, accepts fees and works against your interests.
